

Bildungs- und Kulturdepartement

Kantonsschule Alpenquai Luzern

Fach	Eng	glisch
Prüfende Lehrpersonen	Lehrpersonen der Fachschaft Englisch KS Alpenquai Luzern
Klassen	alle 6. und 7. Klassen, Schu		ljahr 2012-13
Prüfungsdatum	28. Mai 2013
Prüfungsdauer	3 Stunden
Erlaubte Hilfsmittel	keine
Anweisungen zur Lösung der Prüfung	sind alle im vorliegenden Dokument enthalten.
Anzahl erreichbarer Punkte	Par	⁺t	Time (minutes)	Points	Page
		Reading	~ 15		2
	1	Comprehension	~ 30	40	3
	2	Vocabulary	~ 15	30	5
	3	Essay	~ 60	60	6
	4	Grammar	~ 30	50	7
	5	Translation	~ 15	20	9
		Reading over	~ 15
	Tot	tal	180	200
Anzahl Seiten	0

Anzahl Seiten (inkl. Titelblatt)

9

Name:_____ Klasse: _____

How to save a billion lives: A war against the weed spreads and escalates

From: The Economist, slightly adapted.

EVEN more than tempting liquors like tequila, tobacco is a pleasure that the Old World wishes it had never taken from the New. In 1492, when Christopher Columbus was met by tribesmen with "fruit, wooden spears and

- 5 certain dried leaves which gave off a distinct fragrance", he threw the last gift away. But his shipmates brought home the custom of sucking in the smoke, and the taste spread so rapidly that in 1604 King James I of England was prompted to issue a denunciation of the "manifold abuses of this vile custome"
- 10 abuses of this vile custome".

Vile indeed, but habit-forming and therefore lethally dangerous: it cuts short the lives of between a third and half of its practitioners. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), perhaps 100m people died prema-

- 15 turely during the 20th century as a result of tobacco, making it the leading preventable cause of death and one of the top killers overall. Another 1 billion more may die from it in this century if current trends continue unchecked.
- 20 In recent years smoking has been sharply restricted in some unlikely places. In 2004 Ireland amazed the world by successfully imposing a tobacco ban on all workplaces; and at the start of this year, France's café culture suddenly went smoke-free. The draconian curbs intro-
- 25 duced by California in 1998 have been followed, at least in part, by well over half America's states. But the number of smokers in China, India and other developing countries is continuing to grow, as addiction spreads faster than information.
- 30 Hence the determination of almost everybody involved in global public health to escalate the war on smoking. Over 150 countries have already ratified the Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, which requires countries to take a range of anti-smoking
- 35 measures. Last July negotiators agreed on international norms for banning smoking in public places.

In addition to new international rules, the WHO is pushing for aggressive policies at the national and local levels. On February 7th Margaret Chan, the WHO's direc-

- 40 tor-general, and Michael Bloomberg, New York's zealously anti-smoking mayor, were due to unveil the most comprehensive survey of tobacco use ever carried out. The study is "a call to action to avoid a public-health catastrophe", says Douglas Bettcher, head of the Tobacco
- 45 Free Initiative at the WHO. The WHO says countries must do six related things. The first is to improve the quality of data on tobacco use. The second is to impose sweeping Irish-style smoking bans; only 5% of the global population is now covered by such curbs. The third is to
- 50 intensify efforts to induce and assist smokers to drop the habit. Only nine countries offer the kind of well-funded, accessible programmes of which the WHO approves.

Those ideas concern the existing users of tobacco;

- 55 another three are aimed at persuading people not to light up in the first place. It may be hard to believe, but the WHO insists that most smokers still do not understand the full extent of the health risks. It wants all countries to mandate large, grotesque pictorial warn-
- 60 ings on cigarette packets. Another policy proven to work (in the handful of countries, representing 5% of the world's population, to have tried it) is a complete ban on marketing.

The final prescription offered by the WHO is also the

- 65 most powerful one: higher taxes. Studies show that raising tobacco taxes by a tenth may cause a 4% drop in consumption in rich countries and an 8% drop in poor ones, with tax revenue rising despite lower sales. The agency wants a 70% increase in the retail price of
- 70 tobacco, which it says could prevent up to a quarter of all tobacco-related deaths worldwide. The claim is that higher taxes not only bring in revenue to fund antismoking efforts; they actually benefit the poor.

How come? A forthcoming paper by two university

- 75 scholars notes that smokers face a familiar choice between short-term pleasure and a long-term desire to quit. Tobacco taxes are an incentive to make the right choice, and because the poor are price-sensitive, they benefit the most.
- 80 The practical argument for action is simpler: the tobacco industry is getting the world's poor hooked before governments can respond. In recent years, as rich countries have clamped down on smoking, tobacco firms have shifted their focus to poorer places. A study
- 85 by Britain's Bath University found that by using aggressive tactics, such as targeting women, international tobacco firms had helped to double smoking rates in Russia since 1991.

The tobacco industry is regrouping in order to focus on

- 90 "promising" markets and escape the lawsuits it is likely to face in rich countries. China is now home to more than a quarter of the world's smokers; it will soon be manufacturing Marlboro cigarettes for Philip Morris, and the firm will be exporting Chinese tobacco to other
- 95 countries.

At times, the strategy used by public-health campaigners may seem heavy-handed; they retort that nothing else can work against a rich adversary. Indeed, Dr Bettcher argues that just as mosquitoes convey malaria, 100 Big Tobacco is the "vector spreading this epidemic". And eradicating tobacco may prove every bit as hard as fighting insect-borne disease. (851 words)

Name:_____ Klasse: ____

1 Comprehension (40 points)

1.1 True or false?

(16 points)

The following statements are either true or false with respect to the article you have just read. Mark those that are true with a T, and those that are false with an F. You also have to indicate the line(s) where the relevant information can be found.

	Example:		line(s)
0)	According to the author, the Old World would have preferred if the New World hadn't initiated it to liquors and tobacco.	Τ	1 - 3
1)	According to the author, smoking soon became extremely popular in Eng- land.
2)	The WHO claims that many smoking-related deaths could have been pre- vented.
3)	According to the author, Californian law-makers set up an exemplary model for lots of other American states.
4)	According to the author, people in developing countries don't have enough access to information about the dangers of smoking.
5)	Margaret Chan and Michael Bloomberg carried out the most comprehen- sive study of tobacco use ever.
6)	According to the WHO, smokers should be motivated to quit smoking.
7)	According to some studies, tax increases are twice as effective in rich countries as in poor ones.
8)	According to the article, rich countries pose a legal threat to the tobacco industry.

Name:_____ Klasse: ____

1.2 Open comprehension questions

(24 points)

Answer the following questions in your own words. Do not copy whole passages from the article. Write your answers in full sentences on a separate sheet.

- 1) Explain why according to the article the war on smoking has to be escalated. (3 points about 30 words)
- Sum up the measures the WHO approves of in your own words and explain how they aim at different target groups.
 (0 maintage shout 00 mends)

(8 points - about 80 words)

- What are the benefits of higher taxes and an increase on the retail price of tobacco, according to the WHO? (4 points – about 40 words)
- 4) Describe the efforts that have been made by the tobacco industry to minimize their financial losses. (4 points about 40 words)
- 5) Sum up what you perceive as the author's attitude towards smoking. Use evidence from the text to illustrate your view.(5 points about 50 words)

Name:

2 Vocabulary

2.1 Word formation

In the following text, use one word that fits the gap and belongs to the same word family as the word in CAPITALS.

Are There Treatments for Tobacco Addiction?	EFFECT
Yes,research has shown that treatments for tobacco addiction do wor	k. EXTEND
Although some smokers can quit without help, many individuals need	ASSIST with quitting. This is important because smoking cessation	PARTICULAR can have health benefits. For example, within 24 hours of quitting,	MEDIATE blood and chances of heart attack decrease. Long-term benefits of smok	ing PRESS cessation include decreased risk of stroke, lung and other cancers, and coronary heart disease. A	35-
year-old man who quits smoking will, on average, increase his life	EXPECT by 5 years.
Nicotinetherapies (NRTs), such as nicotine gum and the	REPLACE
transdermal nicotine patch, were the first pharmacological treatments approved by the Food and	k
Drug (FDA) for use in smoking cessation therapy.	ADMINISTER
NRTs are used in conjunction with behavioral support to relieve symptom	oms WITHDRAW
 they produce less severe physiological than tobacco-based systems 	and ALTER
generally provide users with lower overall nicotine levels than they with tobacc	o. RECEPTION
(From the NIDA: National Institute on Drug Abuse)

2.2 Antonyms

(8 points)

Find a word or phrase that is opposite in meaning to the word in bold print.

1) ... by successfully imposing a tobacco ban... (l. 22)

2) ... is continuing to grow ... (l. 28)

3) ... must do six related things ... (l. 46)

4) The first is to improve the quality ... (l. 46)

5) ... of which the WHO approves. (1.53)

6) ... is also the most powerful one: ... (l. 65)

7) ... may cause a 4% drop in consumption ...(l. 66)

8) ... The practical argument for action is simpler: ... (l. 80)

(30 points)

(12 points)

_____ Klasse: _____

Schriftliche Maturitätsprüfung Englisch 2013

(10 points)

Name:_____ Klasse: _____

2.3 Synonyms Find a word or phrase that means the same as the word in bold print. 1) ... he threw the last gift away. (l. 6) 2) ... and the taste spread so rapidly ... (l. 8)

3) ... "the manifold abuses of this vile custome". (l.10)

4) ... the draconian curbs introduced by California ... (l. 24)

5) ... international norms for banning smoking ... (l. 36)

6) The third is to intensify efforts ... (l. 50)

7) ... a complete ban on marketing. (l. 62)

8) ... tobacco taxes are an incentive ... (l. 77)

9) ... they retort that nothing else can work ... (l. 97)

10) And eradicating tobacco ... (l. 101)

3 Essay

(60 points)

Choose one of the following topics for an essay (300-400 words).

- 1) Surfing the Internet a dangerous addiction or a wonderful feature of modern life?
- 2) "Alcohol advertising places profit before health and should be forbidden by law." Write a speech for or against this statement that you will deliver in a debating society.
- 3) Comment on the following statement:"Drugs are merely the most obvious form of addiction in our society." (Christopher Lasch, American Historian)

Version: 7. Mai 2013

4 Grammar

4.1 Re-phrasing sentences

Complete the second sentence so that it has a similar meaning to the first sentence, using the word given. Do not change the word given. You must use between three and eight words, including the word given. There is an example (0) at the beginning.

0) When d	oes the next exam begin?	(tell)
Could	you tell me when the next exam begins?
1) I have a	bsolutely no interest in smoking.	(appeal)
Smoking		in the least.
2) It's advi	sable not to smoke regularly.	(avoid)
You	regu	ılarly.
3) You wo	n't be able to give up smoking unless you try much harder.	(make)
You'll have you want to give up smoking.
4) Chris ha	as been smoking so much that there's a risk he will lose his	job. (danger)
Chris is	his job b	ecause he's been smoking so much.
5) The bar	n on smoking in restaurants is probably going to be very un	popular. (likely)
It		in restaurants will be a very unpopu	ılar move.
6) I don't t	hink you'll find it hard to quit smoking.	(difficulty)
I don't think smoking.
-	eed any further information, please call me.	(hesitate)
If you need a	any further information,	a call.
	borrow your book about quitting smoking, please?	(mind)
Would please?		about quitting smoking,
9) It's been	n ages since I smoked a cigarette.	(not)
I		ages.
10) There is	s a rumour that the Marlboro man died from lung cancer.	(said)
The Marlbor	o man	from lung cancer.

Name:_____ Klasse: _____

(50 points)

(20 points)

4.2 Gap-filling

(30 points)

Complete the following text by putting the verbs in brackets into the correct form. Where there is no verb given, think of one word which best fits the gap.

Marlboro

There are few people who (0) んave never heard (never hear) of Marlboro, because Marlboro (1) (be) the largest selling brand of cigarettes in the world for many decades. It
(2) (make) by Philip Morris Company in Richmond, Virginia, and is famous for magazine ads of the Marlboro Man. Philip Morris, the founder of the company, (3) (bear) in 1835, soon after his parents (4) brand (5)(launch) as a woman's cigarette, based on the slogan "Mild as May". This (6)(remain) like that if scientists (7)(not publish) a major study linking smoking to lung cancer in the 1950s. This made Philip Morris (8) (reposition) Marlboro as a men's cigarette in order to fit a market niche of men who (9) (concern) about lung cancer. At the time, filtered cigarettes (10) (consider) safer than unfiltered cigarettes, but until that time (11) (market [verb!]) only to women. Men at the time indicated that while they (12) consider switching to a filtered cigarette, they were anxious about (13) (see) smoking a cigarette marketed to women.
The repositioning of Marlboro as a men's cigarette (14) (handle) by Chicago advertiser Leo Burnett, who suggested (15) manly figures, the first of (16) being a cowboy. Within a year, Marlboro's market share manly figures, the first of (16) being a cowboy. Within a year, Marlboro's market share (17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This (17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This
(17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This must (19)(convince) Philip Morris to drop the lineup of manly figures
(17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This must (19)(convince) Philip Morris to drop the lineup of manly figures and stick with the cowboy. When Burnett came across Darrell Winfield, who worked on a ranch, he thought he
(17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This must (19)(convince) Philip Morris to drop the lineup of manly figures and stick with the cowboy. When Burnett came across Darrell Winfield, who worked on a ranch, he thought he (20) (find) the ideal cowboy. Until then, the Marlboro Man in commercials
(17)(rise) from less (18) one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This must (19)(convince) Philip Morris to drop the lineup of manly figures and stick with the cowboy. When Burnett came across Darrell Winfield, who worked on a ranch, he thought he (20) (find) the ideal cowboy. Until then, the Marlboro Man in commercials (21) (play) by actors, who didn't look authentic. When Winfield re-
(17)(rise) from less (18)one percent to the fourth best-selling brand. This must (19)(convince) Philip Morris to drop the lineup of manly figures and stick with the cowboy. When Burnett came across Darrell Winfield, who worked on a ranch, he thought he (20)

If the Marlboro Man campaign (26)	(not be) such an immediate success, Philip
Morris (27)	(not manage) to overcome growing health concerns so easily for a long time. However, t	he image of Marlboro cigarettes suffered when Wayne
McLaren, who appeared in Marlboro advertisements	s, became an anti-smoking crusader, claiming that his 30-year smoking habit (28)	(lead) to his developing lung cancer. Just before his death, McLaren didn't mind (29)	(film) for a TV-spot, with pictures of him on his hospital bed juxtaposed with those of hin	n appearing as a smoking cowboy. Since then, warning messages on cigarette packages (30)	(become) commonplace in most countries.

5 Translation

(20 points)

Translate the following sentences into English.

- 1) Tabak war in Amerika seit langem in Gebrauch gewesen, als die Pflanze im 16. Jahrhundert entdeckt und nach Europa gebracht wurde.
- 2) Die Indianer pflegten Tabak in Friedenspfeifen zu rauchen, da sie glaubten, er sei eine Gabe Gottes, und dass der Tabakrauch die Gebete der Menschen in den Himmel trage.
- 3) Bevor leichtere Tabaksorten entwickelt wurden, konnte der Rauch nicht inhaliert werden, ohne die Lungen ernsthaft zu schädigen.
- 4) Wenn es James Bonsack vor 150 Jahren nicht gelungen wäre, eine Maschine zu erfinden, die die Zigarettenproduktion automatisierte, wäre das Rauchen nicht so billig geworden.
- 5) Seit der Mitte des letzten Jahrhunderts, als Wissenschaftler herausfanden, dass Rauchen Krebs verursachen kann, wird Tabak als Gesundheitsrisiko betrachtet.
- 6) Die Weltgesundheitsorganisation (WHO) möchte, dass die Tabakwerbung in allen Ländern verboten wird, um die schädlichen Wirkungen des Rauchens zu reduzieren.
- 7) Während langer Zeit war das Rauchen in der Öffentlichkeit Männern vorbehalten, und es wurde sogar zu einem Symbol für (= of) Erfolg.
- 8) Während der Tabakkonsum in den reichen Ländern abnimmt, steigt er in den Entwicklungsländern, und speziell Indien und China sind jetzt die interessantesten Märkte.